

MEET ERIN!

Erin Sanborn is a participant in Vocational Visions' DTAC program. Erin has always been obsessed with papers and wanting to write words or use an iPad to watch cartoons all day. With social interaction issues and aggressive behavior happening daily, Erin's Tutor set new daily goals to help Erin.

From refusing to participate in on-site activities and not wanting to join in outings, Erin has started to participate in individual and small group activities. She is talking and laughing more than before.

Erin tells stories.

She'll say "Once upon a time".

Her Tutor replies "Once upon a time.

Erin says "There was an ant"

Her Tutor says "There was an ant? What did the ant do?"

Erin says "The ant was stuck in the mud".

Her Tutor says "Oh no"!

Erin says "The ants all dirty".

Her Tutor says "The ants dirty"?

Erin says "And the grasshopper says", "I'll help you".

Erin is creating her own story!

Two new meaningful activities that Erin loves are writing on an easel and shredding paper. We are so proud of Erin and her progress. She continues to improve her behavioral issues and uses many please and thank you's throughout the day. Some days are harder than others, but with Erin's determination she is improving and reaching her goals. Great job Erin!

When you make a gift to Vocational Visions you are supporting Erin and the many participants that Vocational Visions serves each and every day. With your donation we can continue to provide the services needed for all of our participants with Intellectual/Developmental and other disabilities. Erin enjoys her program; you can help other Vocational Visions participants to reach their personal goals for greater independence just like Erin is doing.

Please consider a donation to Vocational Visions and our seven programs that assist more than 500 adults with Intellectual/Developmental and other disabilities each year. Throughout our 42year history, we have assisted individuals like Erin and thousands of other men and women with your support. Her success story is simply one of the hundreds happening every-day.
